

CONVERSATIONS WITH THE EARTH

INDIGENOUS VOICES
ON CLIMATE CHANGE

This was a monoculture pine plantation designed to mitigate climate change. But it has left only broken promises and scorched earth.

Photo (osefina Lema - Mojandita, Ecuador)

Photography: Nicolas Villaume

The multimedia exhibition 'Conversations with the Earth: Indigenous voices on Climate Change' is showing in Copenhagen at the National Museum of Denmark and at the Klimaforum09.

www.conversationsearth.org

For more information, please visit www.conversationsearth.org